

THE WEEK OF:
September
21st-25th

This Week in Third Grade...

Math: Continue to have students work on their addition and subtraction facts at home! This week in math students will continue to understand the concept behind multiplication and division using the commutative property and the distributive property.

Reading: Students will be placed into their reading groups this Tuesday. All of the third grade teachers are looking forward to getting to know every student in the third grade!

Writing: Students will become familiar with the Writing Workshop Process by reading Personal Narrative Texts and beginning their own personal narrative (memoir.) We will be using Tomie Depaola's memoir text entitled 26 Fairmount Avenue as a spring board to our writing!

Science: We will be continuing our science unit on ecosystems by creating our own food chains and learning about predator/prey relationships. Our field trip will be Friday, September 25th.

Ms. Amoscato's News

Dear Parents,

Just a reminder that you should be checking your child's homework every night. Homework logs should be signed daily by a parent (including Fridays!) In addition, you should be reviewing addition and subtraction facts (daily) with your child. We will begin basic multiplication facts this week! Students will be making flashcards to practice inside and outside of the classroom.

I must say I am incredibly proud of the work ethic I am seeing in all of my students in the third grade classroom. They are eager to learn and always willing to help one another. We survived our first full week together and accomplished much in our classroom.

Upcoming Tests

Third Spelling Test will be on Friday, September 25th

Math midterm: Thursday, September 24th, 2015.

Important Notes!

Our first math test will be this Thursday. All of my students are prepared to take this (small) test. I will be sending out a "Quick Check" study guide on Monday! Please do not panic!

Please remember to send in two pictures with your student and fill out the interview sheet by Monday! We are eager to start our "memoir" writing project.

Field Trip Permission slips should also be returned!
